

Artifacts

resin, ceramic, acrylic finish, glass

What evidence of your faith have you left behind?

WARNING!

Do Not Eat! This is Not candy. This is Not Suitable for oral consumption. Please do Not put this in your mouth. Please do Not give to small children or leave where small children might find, small parts may pose a choking hazard!

This is art, but by putting a physical cross in this art doesn't automatically make it "good" art or cause it to be above scrutiny due to supposed "religious" content.

Crosses do Not ensure salvation! Chances are that, (according to a recent Barna survey on salvation showing that only 6 percent of Christians received Christ after the age of 19), if you haven't already received salvation through Jesus you will go to hell at the end of your lifetime. Whatever the case may be the choice of your eternal destiny is continually before you.

Putting a cross in your pocket will Not bring you good luck. A little cross does Not guarantee any type of good fortune. The only way to ensure change for the better in your life's path is to change the way you think.

Repent from filling your life with sin. Choose to put Jesus Christ as the center of your being, and remember He died to rescue you from penalty of death and hell and Jesus is alive so you may have the power to live free from sin and death.